

A full report on the UoA 34 Town and Country Planning RAE exercise will appear in the next issue of Town Planning Review and will be accompanied by comment from several leading planning researchers. The article length report, tables and extracts from the criteria will provide a full commentary on issues of publication quality, research income and students, research strategies and culture.